The contract size for derivatives of 'Index on commodities' will be at least Rs. 5 lakhs at the time of introduction of Index derivatives or such lot size as may be stipulated by SEBI or Exchange from time to time.

In the commodity derivatives markets, the exchanges follow the policy of having uniform trading and delivery lot size for the commodity derivatives contracts wherein-

- a. Trading Lot Size- represents the standard quantity of the underlying commodity corresponding to a single derivatives contract position, i.e. trading can be done only in multiple of the Trading lot size, and
- b. Delivery Lot Size- represents the standard quantity of the underlying commodity, in multiple of which delivery is permitted during the staggered delivery period and after the expiry of the contract.

3.1.2 Tick size

The Tick size for commodity derivative Futures and Options contract shall be as defined in the respective contract specification.

3.1.3 Base Price

At the time of making a Futures contract available for trading on the trading system on its first trading day, the Exchange will decide its base price, which will be a notional price based on the spot market price of that commodity on the previous day and a notional carrying cost or a reference price available in any other Derivatives Exchange.

At the time of making an options contract available for trading, the Exchange will decide its base price, which will be a theoretical price as per the applicable Options model. On all other days, it shall be previous day's Daily Settlement Price of the contract.

3.2 Daily Price Limit (DPL)⁵

3.2.1 Base price for DPL

For fixing DPL slabs, base price shall be taken as previous day's closing price of the contract, however for the first trading day (launch day) of each contract Exchange shall determine the base price as per 3.2.3 below.

⁵ MCX/TRD/023/2021 dated January 12, 2021
MCX/TRD/321/2019 dated 19, June 2019

3.2.3 Daily Price Limit (DPL) on First Trading Day of the Futures Contract (For Agri/Non-Agri Commodity Derivatives) (Except Index Futures)

In order to prescribe DPL slabs for the first trading day (launch day) of each contract, Stock Exchange shall determine base price as under:

- a. Volume Weighted Average Price (VWAP) of the first half an hour, subject to minimum of ten trades.
- b. If sufficient number of trades are not executed during the first half an hour, then the VWAP of first hour trade subject to minimum of ten trades shall be considered.
- c. If sufficient number of trades are not executed even during the first hour of the day, then VWAP of the first ten trades during the day shall be considered.

The base price arrived as per a or b or c as above, as the case may be, shall be calculated by the Exchange and shall be used to determine DPL for the remaining part of the day. However, if there are less than ten trades during the day, the closing price will be considered as base price for the next trading day and DPL on the next trading day will be applicable on such base price.

If there is no trade during the day, the close price may be determined by MCXCCL as per the circular issued from time to time. The same will be considered as base price for applying DPL on the next trading day.

its actual/ anticipated exposure in the physical market, even if there is a usable hedge limit available as per hedge limit sanctioned by the Exchanges to the hedger.

- h. If under any circumstances, a hedger is found availing hedge limit in contrary to the guideline framed by the SEBI/Exchanges or submits false document or fails to inform the Exchange in a timely manner about reduction of underlying exposure based upon which it has been sanctioned hedge limit by the Exchange, it shall be liable for expulsion from membership/prohibition from trading as the case may be. Such action shall be without prejudice to other disciplinary actions, including penalties prescribed by the Exchange.
- i. A Hedger having availed of benefit of hedge limits, shall preserve relevant records for a period of minimum three years for inspection by SEBI/Exchange.
- j. The hedge limit approved by the Exchange shall be valid for a period as mentioned in the approval letter and such hedge limit shall stand cancelled automatically upon expiry of such period without any notice. The Exchange shall review periodically the maximum quantum of hedge limits to be sanctioned to each applicant subject to fulfilment of prescribed conditions.
- k. The Exchange shall be disclosing on its website the hedge position allocated to various hedgers, indicating the period for which approval is valid, in an anonymous manner. The disclosure shall be made in the following format:

Sr. No	Name of the Commodity	Hedger	Long Hedge Limits	Short Hedge Limits	Date of making applicatio	Application Approval Date	Approval Start Date	Date till Approval is valid
1.		Hedger 1
2.		Hedger 2

II. Guidelines

- a) The request for Hedge limit shall be considered only on receipt of all the documents complete in all respects. The Exchange reserves the right to reject any application or to stipulate any additional conditions or ask for additional documentation before and/or after sanctioning hedge limit.
- b) Members shall:
 - i. Not put through any trade by a Hedger violating the limit or any of the terms or conditions on which hedge limit is sanctioned.
 - ii. Monitor the Hedger's position continuously to ensure that it does not exceed the sanctioned limit.

- iii. Ensure that the Hedger reduces the open position in the near month contract within the normal limit for that contract prior to the date of applicability of near month position limits.
 - iv. Immediately inform the Exchange of any violation of limit or terms and conditions by the Hedger.
- c) An Exporter/ Importer availing hedging limit on open position on account of his unfulfilled export/ import commitment should in the event of his not being able to ship the goods/ receive shipment of goods during the contract period, either for reason of non-availability of freight or for any other reason, should forthwith liquidate his equivalent open position exceeding the limit prescribed, specifying reasons to the Exchange. Failure to do so would render him ineligible for availing hedging limit on open position in respect of his export/ import contracts thereafter.
 - d) If any member/ non-member (client hedger) is found availing hedging limit in any manner without having stock of physical goods/ export commitment or submits false document, availing hedging limit on the same stock at two different Exchanges, he shall be liable to expulsion/ debarment and other severe disciplinary measures and penalties. Therefore, the Member, while seeking limit on behalf of their clients, shall exercise due diligence on their part during the period of hedge.
 - e) Hedge limits would be valid until underlying exposure in physical market such as stocks held, Domestic/ Import/ Export commitments, anticipated sales/ purchases are open. Positions established in the hedge code should be liquidated in an orderly manner in accordance with sound commercial practices. The initiation and unwinding of hedge positions should correspond to the underlying position in the physical markets.
 - f) As the hedge positions are typically larger than the normal client level limits, the Member may, in addition to the Exchange prescribed margins, also collect additional margins based on the assessment of the risk profile of the client.
 - g) The approved hedge limit will be valid from the date of sanction for a period as specified in the sanction letter. In case a member /non-member (hedger) intends to avail the additional open position limits beyond the specified date, he will have to approach the Exchange stating the reasons thereof, for extension, at least a month before expiry of the hedge limit sanctioned period, failing which the hedge limit will stand cancelled upon expiry. In such a case, the concerned member shall square off the additional position acquired, on or before the date of expiry of hedge limit. The Exchange may, at its discretion, direct the parties concerned to liquidate the approved excess positions before expiry without assigning reasons thereto. Members and their hedge clients are advised to follow the guidelines while availing additional position limit.

The Exchange reserves the right to amend/ modify the terms and conditions for sanctioning hedge limit at any time without any notice and the member/non-member client (hedger) shall accordingly be bound by them.
